RE:

DECLARATORY JUDGMENT
AND SALARY CLAIM

AMENDED JUDGMENT NUNC PRO TUNC TO CORRECT NAMES IN THE ATTACHMENT

The plaintiffs, which are detailed in the attachment to this Judgment, that are incorporated by reference and are made to form an integral part of the same, are employees that occupy positions with different classifications and work or have worked in the Family Department and its adminstrations: Office of the Secretary, ASFAN, ADSEF, ASUME and ACUDEN.

The plaintiff employees filed the captioned complaint on February 23, 2005. They requested a Declaratory Judgment what decreed the nullification of General Memorandum 5-86 dated April 23, 1986, issued by the Central Office of Personnel Administration (OCAP in Spanish), today the Human Resources Office of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico (ORHELA in Spanish), since it was in conflict with the provisions established under the Uniform Retribution Act, Law 89 of July 12, 1979, 3 L.P.R.A. § 760 et seq (derogated) and with the principle of equal pay for equal work guaranteed by Art. II, Section 16 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

The plaintiff claim that their salaries were affected when the Family Department implemented the Federal minimum wage that entered into effect on April 15, 1985 and subsequent increases, since the existing salary structure was left inoperative and there was adopted a different payment system, incompatible with the provisions of the Uniform Retribution Act, supra. They argue that their right to receive a compensation in accordance with the functions that they perform and the hierarchy, levels of responsibility and complexity of their respective positions, pursuant to the value of their work within the employment market.

They claim that this situation was repeated every time that there entered into effect new minimum salary increases. They allege that this situation constitutes an act that is negligent, reckless, fraudulent and of unjust enrichment, wherefore the defendants did not provide a fair nor equitable treatment in the establishment of the salaries of the plaintiffs.

Furthermore, they allege violations to Section 218 of the Minimum Wage Act "Federal Labor Standard Act of 1938", 29 USC 201, et seq, when there were reduced the standards of work or higher benefits that existed in our jurisdiction, to the derogated Law 5 of November 20, 1975, 3 L.P.R.A. §1338, known as the Public Service Act and the regulation of OCAP which imposed on the agencies of the CWPR the obligation to implement a program of reduction of the work schedule if they did not have the necessary funds to implement the Federal minimum wage.

They also claim that as a result of the illegal adjustments practiced, the plaintiffs suffered the impairment of the legislative increases received and of the increases for years of service.

On April 27, 2005, the defendant submitted a Responsive Answer to the Complaint. On July 20, 2005, the complaint was amended to include new plaintiffs and to reformulate allegations.

In compliance with the Order issued by the Court, the plaintiffs submitted the facts on which there is no controversy and the stipulations of the parties adopted in the case of Carmen Socorro Cruz Hernández y otros v. Departamento de la Familia, Civil Number KAC1991-0665 of the CFI, San Juan Part, including the retribution scales adopted by the Family Department and ORHELA. Furthermore, there was submitted for adjudication the applicability to the captioned case of what was resolved by the Supreme Court in Santiago Declet y otros v. Departamento de la Familia, 153 D.P.R. 208 (2001).

On January 27, 2006, the plaintiffs requested that the Court issue a Partial Summary Judgment basing its request on the facts as to which there did not exist any controversy.

On April 26, 2006, in attention to the fact that the parties coincided in that the claims are identical to the claims of Carmen Socorro Cruz Hernández y otros v. Departamento de la Familia, supra, which was in an advanced stage of the proceedings, through a Joint Motion Requesting a Provisional Stay of the Proceedings, they requested the provisional stay of the proceedings and agreed that once the judgment of that case became final and binding (K AC1991-0665), they would heed it as a standard to resolve the captioned case.

On April 13, 2007, the plaintiff through a Motion Requesting the Reopening of the Case and that a Partial Judgment be Issued, notified the Court that Judgment had been issued in the case of Carmen Socorro Cruz Hernández y otros v. Departamento de la Familia, supra, and requested the reopening of the proceedings.

On August 24, 2007, the parties submitted a Joint Motion Notifying Stipulations of Fact and Documentary Evidence. On that date, the defendant was ordered to determine, through the corresponding calculations, the amount that is owed to each plaintiff.

Subsequently multiple follow-up hearings were held where there were discussed the procedural aspects of the case and the status of the calculations on the salaries owed to each plaintiff pursuant to the new salary scales adopted.

On the date of March 11, 2010, the representation of the plaintiff submitted the Final Report of the experts of the parties which is the result of the consensus on the amounts owed to the plaintiffs in an individual manner.

On April 7, 2010, the State was granted fifteen (15) days to express itself with regard to the Motion Submitting Expert Report. On June 7, 2010, we approved the expert report.

In consideration to what is stated above, we accept the following stipulations of facts and documents submitted by the parties:

STIPULATIONS OF FACTS

1. All of the plaintiffs are career employees that work or have worked as employees of the Department of Social Services, today the Family Department, occupying positions as secretaries, office clerks, executive officials, social service technicians, auxiliary collectors, socials service assistants, accounting officials, etc. These positions were assigned annually by the Director of the Central Office of Personnel Administration, hereinafter OCAP, between the years 1985 to 1996, to scales 1 to 19 of the Retribution plan of the Central Administration and subsequently when there was adopted the Retribution Plan created by the agency as an Individual Administrator.
2. On April 15, 1986, there commenced to govern in the Government of Puerto Rico the Federal Minimum Wage Act of $3.35 per hour worked.
3. On April 15, 1986 there existed 39 types of salary scales. Of these, the first 11 scales received salaries below the Federal Minimum Wage.
4. That when the Federal minimum wage entered into effect, on April 15, 1986, the Social Services Department, today the Family Department, equated the salary of the employees assigned to these first 11 scales based on $3.35 per hour, leaving the Retribution Plan inoperative.

5. That when the adjustment was made, all of the employees that belonged to said scale were uniformly paid the same salary that was received by the janitor and the worker according to the Federal minimum wage of $3.35 per hour.
6. That subsequently, the Social Services Department, today the Family Department, elaborated a Uniform Retribution plan that established new salary scales, which Plan was given an effective date of April 1, 1996. This plan contains 33 salary scales, instead of the 39 salary scales that existed in 1986. This plan was elaborated by the Department with the collaboration and consultation of the Central Office of the Personnel Administration Office (OCAP).
7. That this situation occurred again in the years 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994 and every time that there occurred the implementation of new increases pursuant to the Federal Minimum Wage Act. Wherefore, while the Federal minimum wage was increased, they continued altering new additional scales. In this manner, already by April 1, 1996, the date prior to there entering into effect the Retribution Plan of the Social Services Department, today the Family Department, 19 salary scales had been affected.
8. In September 1997, when there was again increased the minimum salary of the employees in the Department, the Retribution Plan of 1996 was left inoperative.
9. On April 1, 1985, in its function or providing advice to the government agencies, the OCAP issued Special Memorandum No. 8-85 where it informed the Secretaries and the Agency Heads the decision in the case of García v. San Antonio Metropolitan Mass. Transit Authority.

"As a result of this decision, the employees of the Government of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and of its Municipal Governments must be paid the Federal minimum wage and the overtime compensated at the rate of time and a half through a cash payment".

10. On April 18, 1985, the Director of OCAP sent to the then Governor of Puerto Rico, Rafael Hernández Colón, a Memorandum on the following matter: "Alternatives of salary structures to provide salary increases to the public employees under the Central Administration and to comply with the Federal minimum".

The communication proposed a salary improvement plan in four stages where the Federal minimum salary was exceeded for 1968 and included as an attachment the proposed salary scales.

With regard to the trust personnel, the cited communication states: "...it is not necessary to take action immediately since the basic scale of the salary structure that is applied $505 - 657 at present has no classes assigned. The lowest salary in the Trust Service is the one corresponding to the class of chauffeur which is assigned to the second scale: $549 - 714".

11. On July 2, 1985, OCAP issued and circulated among the agencies, General Memorandum 7-85, to inform all of the agency heads that the decision of the Hon. Federal Supreme Court García v. San Antonio Metropolitan Mass Transit Authority, 469 US 528 had been confirmed and included general information on the form of compensating the overtime hours.

12. On September 5, 1985, the OCAP issued and circulated General Memorandum No. 9-85 addressed to all of the agency heads regarding "The interpretation of aspects related to the retribution of the Employees" which included, in clause A, the standard of interpretation of Art. 3 of Law No. 3 of June 30, 1977. Pursuant to this directive, the legislative intention was recognized, as stated in Art. 3 of "expanding in that same proportion the retribution scales for the employees that receive it".

In what pertains to the employees who did not receive the increase since they were receiving the maximum salaries of the scale, instructions were issued to the agencies to "reevaluate the cases pursuant to this interpretation".

13. On September 17, 1985, the OCAP sent a written communication to Atty. Guillermo Mojica related to the budgetary effect that the implementation of a new salary structure would have for the Career Service of the Central Administration for the purpose of complying with the implementation of the Federal Minimum Salary.
14. On October 14, 1985, the OCAP issued Special Memorandum No. 25-85 addressed to all of the agency heads containing the LAST JURISPRUDENCE RELATED TO PERSONNEL ADMINISTRATION. It included a summary of the decision of the Honorable Federal Supreme Court in García v. San Antonio Metropolitan Mass Transit Authority, 468 US 526. Said communication informs "...the Federal minimum salary and the payment for overtime as recognized in the same in the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act, are applicable to the employees of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico as of the 15th day of April of 1985".

15. On November 20, 1985, the director of OCAP sent to the then Governor of Puerto Rico, a Memorandum regarding: "Salary increase to the Public Employees" which informs: "At present it is necessary to comply with the Federal Minimum Wage as of April 15, 1986, which possibly requires that it be done in a single stage".
16. From the content of the document it appears that OCAP designed a new salary structure for the career service of the Central Administration based on a minimum scale of $545-736 which complied with the Federal minimum salary in effect of $3.35 per hour and also consign: "This structure would be implemented by us adjusting the actual salary of the employees to the immediately higher amount or type of retribution to the corresponding scale in the new structure to reduce its budgetary effect".
17. On March 26, 1986, OCAP issued General Memorandum 3-86 where it updated to the agency heads the information regarding the application of the Minimum Wage Act sent referring to the case of García, supra. Furthermore, it informed them that the FLSA would enter into application in the government of April 15, 1986, offering further details about the applicability of the Law.
18. That on April 15, 1986 there commenced to govern in the government of Puerto Rico the Federal Minimum Wage Act that established a minimum salary of $3.35 per hour worked. On that date, the Department equated the salary of the plaintiff employees as consigned in the preceding Stipulations 3, 4 and 5.
19. After that, on April 15, 1985, there was presented H.B. 493 to propose an amendment to clauses (2) and (3) of Art. 7 of the Uniform Retribution Act, converted into Law No. 149 of July 18, 1986. This law had the purpose of endowing OCAP and its Director with mechanisms of greater flexibility to practice adjustments and extensions to the scales of retribution of the Central Administration and eliminated the requirement of obtaining the prior approval of the Government to carry out said transactions.

20. On April 23, 1986, through General Memorandum 5-86, OCAP informed the agency head of the application of the minimum salary of 3.25 hr., effective on April 16, 1986 and included a directive to practice the salary adjustments. Referring to the Municipalities, they were instructed to implement a plan of reduction of the daily work schedule if they determined an insufficiency of funds to implement the minimum salary.
21. When issuing this directive, OCAP did not consult with the Federal Secretary of Labor to verify if it complied or not with the requirements of the Minimum Wage Act. [Answer of OCAP to the Request for Admissions in the case of Carmen Socorro Cruz Hernández y otros. v. ELA and others, Civil KAC 91-0665 505)].
21. On June 30, 1986, OCAP issued Memorandum No. 3-86 informing the tenth Assignment of Classes of the Career Service of the Central Administration: "For this fiscal year no changes have been registered in the salary scales. Nevertheless, it is mandatory that the agencies comply with the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act with regard to the Federal minimum". Attachment 1 of Memorandum 3-86 includes a list of the amendments made to the previous assignment of classes during the course of the year assigning classes to superior scales.

23. With regard to the irregular employees, governed by Law 110 of June 26, 1958, as amended, and notwithstanding having recognized in Memorandum No. 3-86, supra, of April 23, the application of the minimum wage of $3.15 hr, OCAP issued on the date of August 22, 1986, General Memorandum No. 12-86 regarding: "Amendment to the scales of Pay for the irregular personnel". In this new scale the anchor salary of Group 1 was developed based on a salary of $3.00 hr., wherefore it is below the Federal minimum wage established.
24. The Federal minimum wage increased in Puerto Rico on the dates and the amounts that are indicated hereinafter:

April 15, 1986	to 3.25 hr.
April 1, 1990	to 3.55 hr.
April 1, 1991	to 3.70 hr.
April 1, 1992	to 3.90 hr.
April 1, 1993	to 4.05 hr.
April 1, 1994	to 4.25 hr.
April 1, 1996	to 4.45 hr.
Sept. 1, 1997	to 5.15 hr.
Sept. 1, 2000	to 5.80 hr. ¹
July 24, 2007	to 5.85 hr.

25. The standard adopted by the Department to implement the salary adjustments when the minimum salary and subsequent increases entered into effect, as identified in the previous paragraph, equated the salary of the plaintiffs to the salary received by the worker and the janitor.

¹ Increase of the minimum salary of Puerto Rico to $5.80 per hour by Law 320 of September 2000 effective on September 1, 2000.

26. As a result of the above, in the years 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993 and 1994, 1997 and up to the present, as a result of the implementation of the new increases in the Federal Minimum Wage Act, and while the Federal minimum salary has been increases, they continued to alter new scales. In this manner, already by April 1, 1996, the date prior to there entering into effect the Retribution Plan of the Department of Social Services, today the Family Department, 19 salary scales had been affected.
27. In 1991, the Department of Social Services was constituted, in an individual administrator through Executive Order Number OE-1991-46, signed by the then Governor of Puerto Rico, Rafael Hernández Colón conferring to the Secretary of said Department the faculty to adopt its own Classification and Retribution Plan.
28. Through Special Memorandum No. 26-93 of July 1, 1993, OCAP recognized and affirmed the obligation of the agency heads of the Individual Administrations to temper the Retribution Plan to the Federal legislation applicable to the public service.
29. On June 3, 1994, the OCAP issued Memorandum No. 5-94, addressed to the Heads of the Individual Administrator Agencies of the Personnel System regarding: "Assignment of the classes of positions to the retribution scales effective at the commencement of every fiscal year updating the retribution structures to the Federal minimum salary. In what is pertinent it reads as follows:

"The individual administrators that still continue using the plans that governed for the Central Administration must take note that since said sector of the Personnel System is not operating it is not pertinent to make the assignment of the classes to the corresponding scales in said plans. To these we reiterate that it is imperative and urgent that they develop and implement these work instruments. (See Special Memorandum No. 26-93 and Special Memorandum No. 13-94 that we sent regarding this matter.)”

30. Memorandum 5-94, supra, reads: “Updating the Retribution Structures

Clause 1 of Article 2 of the Uniform Retribution Act establishes that it is the obligation of the Individual Administrators to maintain current the retribution plans that they adopt for the career and trust services. For this reason, the agencies that have approved and implemented their own classification and retribution plans that they have in effect respond to what is provided in Section 4.6 of the Uniform Retribution Regulation, particularly clauses (2), (3), (5), (6) and (8)”.

31. On the other hand Memorandum 5-94 states:

“Some agencies are not sending annually the corresponding copy to our office, which is indicative that they have not put into observation the aforementioned legal and regulatory rules”.

32. While the scale of retribution of the Family Department was maintained inoperative by the plaintiffs, OCAP continued the practice of authorizing the assignment of multiple classes to superior scales.

33. In 1994, OCAP redacted two documents entitled:

- A. "Relationship of the class in the Career Service that have been impacted with the application of the Federal Minimum Wage".
 - B. "Classes reassigned to the Superior Retribution Scale as of the first of April of 1986 up to the present".
34. This being the case, in July 1996, the Family Department adopted a Classification and Retribution Plan. Paragraph III of the Plan provides:
- "Description of the salary structure. The salary structure adopted consists of twenty three (23) salary scales. The number of scales necessary to cover the two hundred ten (210) classes of positions resulting from the classification study, was determined based on the group of classes of position taken in consideration to the levels of complexity or difficulty of the work, the magnitude of the responsibility and the degree of authority, elements which among others, constitute the demands of the positions assigned to each class of positions. There was also taken into consideration the difficulties of recruitment and retention that exist in some classes of positions".
- "The base salary of the structure is Seven Hundred Eighty Dollars ($780.00) a month".
35. When the Department practiced the corresponding assignment of the positions occupied by the plaintiffs to the scales of 1996, there was re-established the existing salary difference between the different categories of positions that had been inoperative since April 1986.

36. In his message before the 5th Ordinary Session of the Twelfth Legislative Assembly of Puerto Rico, on January 24, 1995, the then Governor of Puerto Rico stated:

"The situation of the CWPR and the government of Puerto Rico had a frank economic recovery. There were instrumented two tax reforms, legislation was approved to substantially increase the salaries of the policemen, firefighters, nurses, custody officers, teachers and other groups of public employees."

37. On January 31, 1996, the El Nuevo Día newspaper published that at the closing of the current fiscal year there existed an excess in the cash box of 300 million.

38. On March 1, 1996, there was made effective an amendment to the Plan of Classification of Positions, as proposed by the Department and approved by OCAP, to assign several classes of positions to higher retribution scales, leaving in effect the Plan of 1996.

39. Through Special Memorandum #51-96 regarding: "New Federal Minimum Wage effective October 1, 1996 and September 1, 1997", the Director of OCAP notified:

"...that as of the first of October of 1996, the employees of the state government, independent of their status or category, are covered by the new Federal Minimum wage of $4.75 per hour". "As of the 1st of September of 1997 the Federal Minimum Wage will be $5.15 per hour".

40. In June 1997 and through Memorandum No. 8-97, OCAP amended the Guide of Classification of Functions and Scales of Payment of the Regulation for the Irregular Personnel to conform it to the new minimum salary of $5.15 hr., effective September 1, 1997.

41. On March 20, 1998, the Department made effective its Third Assignment of Classes leaving unchanged the salary structure of the career service that it adopted in 1996. With the same, it maintained the referenced Retribution Plan inoperative, in view of the increase that occurred in the Minimum Salary.
42. On October 25, 1997, the Department made another review of the assignment of classes to superior scales and created new classes, and has maintained up to the present the Retribution Plan that it adopted in 1996, without changes except the reassignments and changes identified above.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Through the adoption of the Uniform Retribution Act, Law No. 89 of July 12, 1979, 3 L.P.R.A. 760 et seq. (currently derogated by law No. 184 of August 3, 2004), there was established in Puerto Rico a system of retribution with the principal of equal pay for equal work. This system propitiated the uniformity, equity and justice in the establishment of the salaries of all of the employees of the public service, and pursues the application of mechanisms that tend to and facilitate the recruitment and retention of personnel through the concession of additional incentives. To achieve this objective, there was imposed the obligation to the agencies within the system, to adopt retribution plans pursuant to the regulation adopted by the Central Office of Personnel Administration (OCAP), to instrument this law to the general rules regarding retribution that it issues. Art. 2 of the derogated Law 89.

To comply with the objectives of Law 89, supra, in 1984 OCAP approved the Regulation of Uniform Retribution. The Regulation contained provisions applicable to the entire personnel system, which included the individual administrators (Art. 4 of the Regulation) and, some that apply exclusively to the agencies under the Central Administration (Art. 5 of the Regulation).

As to the administration of the salary scales, there were established in Art. 9 of the Uniform Retribution Act the standards related to the administration of salaries. Similarly, in Sec. 4.5(3) of the Uniform Retribution Regulation, there was imposed the obligation to OCAP and to each Individual Administrator to annually assign all of the classes of positions of the classification plans to the scales contained in the retribution plans that were in effect, for the career service as well as for those of trust, effective at the commencement of each fiscal year.

The OCAP (now Human Resources Office of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico) (ORHELA in Spanish) and the Individual Administrators, are obligated to maintain up to date the retribution plans that they adopt for the career and trust services, in compliance with the standards relate to the administration and the maintenance of the retribution structures, as established in clauses 1 and 2 of Art. 2 of the Law of Uniform Retribution and in section 4.6, clauses (2), (3), (5) (6) and (8) of the Uniform Retribution Regulation.

In this case, the plaintiff alleges that the defendants did not comply with the duties that we have stated and that by doing so they violated the salary scales of their positions, wherefore they do not receive a fair pay for the work performed.

As we previously stated, the parties stipulated that what was resolved in the case of Carmen Socorro Cruz Hernández y otros vs. Departamento de la Familia, KAC 1991-0665, since it involves identical controversies between the parties they were made extensive to the captioned case. In the alluded case the Court concluded the following:

Considering what is previously stated, we understand that the selection of the Family Department of the adjustment formula recommended by O.C.A.P. in General Memorandum 5-86, of April 23, 1986, is not in agreement with the provisions required by the Uniform Retribution Act, supra, when they did not maintain updated a system of progressive salary scales after implementing amendments made to the minimum salary. After an analysis of the formula recommended by O.C.A.P., it can be observed that its execution resulted in equitably remunerating its janitors, office clerks (I, II, III and IV), secretaries (I and II) and social institution assistants, among others positions assigned within the first 11 scales of the retribution structure in effect at that time. As a result of the fact that the defendant makes assignments of positions at the beginning of each fiscal year, for the date of March 1996 the employees located up to the 19th scale had also been affected by the adjustment. In Aulet Lebrón v. Depto. de Servicios Sociales, supra, at page 24, the Supreme Court stated:

Needless to say, the normative letters that O.C.A.P. issues in the exercise of its quasi-legislative functions cannot be in conflict with the law or with the binding jurisdiction in the matter that it intends to regulate, since the power of regulation delegated to the agency does not empower it to substitute the legislative or judicial criteria stated in the current state of the law. A.P.I.A.U., Inc. v. Srio. de Hacienda, 100 D.P.R. 173 (1971); Rosario Mercado v. San Juan Racing Assn., 94 D.PR. 634 (1967); Rivera Maldonado v. Autoridad sobre Hogares, 87 D.P.R. 453 (1963); Ex parte Irizarry, 66 D.P.R. 672 (1946).

To avoid this, the Uniform Retribution Act, supra, stipulates in its Art. 9, that “[e]ffective at the beginning of each federal year, the Director will assign all of the classes of positions to the scales contained in the Retribution Plan adopted by the Central Administration”. 3 L.P.R.A. § 760h. Since it was not annually updated, the system of salary scales was left inoperative, which requires taking into consideration the complexity of the roles of the unskilled administrative, technicians, specialized and of supervision, to then remunerate in proportion to the same. With this the retribution system has resulted irrational, capricious or arbitrary for the plaintiffs. See, Aulet Lebrón v. Depto de Servicios Sociales, supra, at page 47. It should be pointed out that at the time of assigning a type of position to a specific retribution scale, the agencies will take into consideration factors such as years of service, academic preparation, experience or merit steps granted to the employee of said position. See, Uniform Retribution Regulation, supra, at § 4.6, clauses (2), (3), (5), (6) and (8). In addition to this, Sec. 4.4 of the Retribution Regulation provides that the retribution plans that are adopted have to be in harmony with the public policy established in the Uniform Retribution Act, supra, in addition to requiring the application of uniform salary scales to those classes of position that are equivalent maintaining therefore a correlation between the relative value that is assigned to the classes in the respective classification plans and the monetary value that is assigned to the same through salary scales.

The Supreme Court of Puerto Rico has expressed that the minimum salary legislation and the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act, do not prevent the states from legislating to grant greater benefits. See, 20 U.C.S.A. § 218(3), (2006); Vega v. Yiyi Motors, 146 D.P.R. 373, 381-2 (1998); Olazagasti v. Easter Sugar Associates, 79 D.P.R. 93, 106-7 (1956). Therefore, the compliance with the minimum salary is only one of the requirements for the observance of the rules of labor, which in this case also required the updating and application of the retribution scales.

In view of the juridical law stated, we understand that the plaintiffs have a right to and we Grant the complaint approving the salary scales marked in the Exhibits of the evidence stipulated. For purposes of resolving the differences that have arisen between the parties with regard to the manner in which the calculations of the salaries owed should be made determining the specific amounts of each employee, there will be held on September 26, 2006 a hearing where the pertinent expert and documentary evidence will be received.

The defendant will prepare and file with the Court, providing a copy to the legal representation of the plaintiffs, the payrolls necessary to make the payment to the plaintiffs. Said payrolls will include: (a) the names and social securities of the plaintiffs, (b) total owed to each plaintiff; (c) amount withheld for the retirement payment of each plaintiff and (d) the net amount corresponding to each plaintiff. The payment to the plaintiffs will be made during fiscal year 2006-7, wherefore the defendant must consign in its budget an item for the payment of the Judgment that is issued herein.

The parties, in compliance with the stipulation that they have reached, must heed the judicial determination of the case of Carmen Socorro Cruz Hernández y otros v. Departamento de la Familia, supra, the dispositive part of which we have made form part of this Judgment.

As to the attorneys fees, in view of the fact that this matter at this time is pending resolution before the Supreme Court of Puerto Rico in the case of Carmen Socorro Cruz Hernández y otros v. Departamento de la Familia, CC09-1074, where there is requested the revision of the Judgment of August 24, 2009 of the Court of Appeals which determined to revoke the concession of attorneys fees in the case, the parties will attend to what is provided by the Supreme Court.

RECORD AND NOTIFY.
